Superior performance & low maintenance

Bio-Cem™ polyurethane concrete flooring integrates cutting-edge thermal-shock-resistant technology with environmentally friendly raw materials to deliver a highly durable, non-slip surface. It is designed for superior performance and creates a seamless, impervious barrier that withstands hot water cleaning, oleic acid, and other by-products from enzymatic cleaners — ensuring long-lasting protection in demanding environments.

Quality products you can stand on

Resinwerks manufactures sustainable, environmentally friendly materials that are safe for use in rapid return-to-service commercial and industrial environments. Bio-Cem™ polyurethane concrete systems consist of a self-leveling thick-build slurry, vertical cove base (where specified), and either a polyurethane concrete or polyaspartic topcoat. All applications may be custom color matched to meet the design standards of your brewery.
